Fruit Cans and Jars,

ALL KINDS

DuBose &amp; Ezell.

Protracted meetings will be held by Rev. J. M. Ashford, pastor, beginning at Pleasant Hill the 4th Sunday in August, Sharon the first Sunday in September, Beech Grove the second, Padiuca the first Sunday in October. Services will be held in each instance on Saturday morning and night preceding.

The announcement that Lincoln county would concede the right to Giles to name the senator was premature. It was based upon what we thought was authoritative, believing, as we did, that Giles' right was so apparent that it could not be disputed. We do not doubt that it will be done, but it has not been officially done yet.

A Lesson for Tennessee.

A wholesale merchant of Nashville informed us the other day that the collections of his house were always better off of the money realized by the people from dried fruit than from the wheat crop. There is a sermon in this statement. It can be easily said that three-fourths or more of the fruit crop of Giles county is wasted and allowed to rot every year, and notwithstanding this fact, it yields more money than the wheat crop. The money that comes in for wheat comes in bulk and is used in bulk to pay land debts and store accounts, but this fruit money, smaller in amount of course, constitutes the pocket change and currency of the county. It developed into a large industry and nothing is wanting except a disposition to bring it to market and care for it more closely. We consider Mr. Craig's fruit drying venture one of the most important steps for farmers that has happened in Giles. All day yesterday wagons loaded with apples were before his door and he actually had to advertise that he does not want any more. It will require several evaporators to dry the crop, and as they increase, more fruit will be sold and greater care taken to preserve it for market, and the final outcome will amount to the drying of the crop. It utilizes apples for which there has been no market. The farmers should study these facts and let the care and preservation of the apple crop go along with the other saving of little things that they waste.

The Marriage Craze.

Was there ever such a craze to seize upon the people. In Nashville men are standing on the corners reading a "leaflet" to another wild man. In Pulaski it is little wild men. They are all crazy and they see the money in it and the good it does young married people to have a sure start, and they are insuring all around, in several companies, and piling up the possibilities of a young fortune. (Gro. B. McCallum, the special agent for all the Pulaski Associations, is busy night and day. He is going or sending to all points in the country and is receiving numerous responses. People are coming to the country as well as in Nashville and they are taking hold of it out through the villages. It will pay young persons to investigate this matter at once and get in early. Mr. McCallum will be glad to have you call on or address him, and now while the craze is up, if you get in early you may get out at immense advantage. Try the home companies first. You know the officers here and can rely on square dealing.

The Bridal Veil.

How suggestive of W. H. Croft ever forget the silken bridal veil that hid the half-brided, blushing face before the altar, its restless folds trembling responsive to the half-nervous perturbations of your young heart, its gleaming and undulating, arm, struggling manfully to resist the excitement, it sent a thrill all through you and you felt the steadiness and courage you had been summoning for weeks to bear you through the ordeal of the veil, and little streaks of fright, chased each other, like lightning playing in the cloud-rifts, through your nerves, until your heart was about to leap out and entangle itself in the radiance of the media of that bridal veil. Young man, you can not conceive the bliss of the moment when the minister desists and you come into the glorious consciousness that you are alone with your bride, your wife. Here it is, right in Pulaski. Do you desire to taste the sweets and endure the ecstasies of that supremest moment? How richly the pleasures will be augmented if you don't know where there that you are not bringing your new treasure to want, but have in store for her and you that to bring ease and comfort. Do you desire it now? Take a policy in the Bridal Veil. Is your desire so intense that you must feel the thrill of the touch of the real silken bridal veil at the altar now? Then you must take the Bridal Veil. It is the media of that bliss, and you do not have to wait. It invites, urges, implores, pays you to marry at once, or wait as you please. See the plan. It is the cream of all others, the best of all others, the best of all others, and will anchor you within the veil. Ask Maj. J. B. Stacy, the president, whether it is safe. See Mr. Geo. B. McCallum, the special agent, at once. Office, lock box 4, Pulaski, Tenn. Young man, don't enter the blissful state without a start. Old man, if the young get will not do it, take a policy on him yourself and catch out the first bounce.

The Memphis Mutual Aid Society.

The only company paying ten percent of amount due on certificate at once upon receipt of proof of marriage, and the only twenty day National company. Wants agents and members. Geo. E. Willis, secretary and Treasurer, Memphis, Tenn. Aug-31.

A Card from Mr. Tallafero's Card.

I have been frequently urged to become a candidate for Congress by citizens of this as well as other counties, and as the selection of delegates from this county takes place next Saturday, I desire through your columns to announce that I am not now a candidate for Congress. I am a private citizen, engaged solely in the practice of my profession, and neither seeking nor desiring a public office. In the coming year I am not higher than a private in the ranks, ready to cast my vote, and raise my voice, if necessary, in behalf of Gen. Bates and other nominees by the democracy of the people. Very respectfully, PULASKI, AUG. 14, 1882.

Are You Exposed

To malarial influences? then protect your system by using Parker's Ginger Beer, in behalf of Gen. Bates and other nominees by the democracy of the people. It is good for general debility and nervous exhaustion.

Col. McKissack brought us a new

Tobacco and Cigars, and a new botanical catalogue. He also brought us some pears that were fair to look upon without, but with in they were green persimmon quinces. All our printers' mouths are on a pucker and they are all sires a good chance to do a lot of wholesale kissing we have a half dozen months here on a dead sea for business.

Time and Expense Saved.

Hard workers are subject to bilious attacks which may end in dangerous illness. Parker's Ginger Beer keeps the kidneys and liver active, and by preventing the attack saves sickness and expense. -Detroit Press.

Mr. Morgan sold to Mr. Sowell yesterday 29 head of mules.

Mr. Morgan's Fairbanks scales will be ready for business Friday.

An effort will be made to get Senator Harris or Col. House to speak in Pulaski next Monday.

Only about twenty days until we will have gas. Parties would do well to have their houses prepared for gas before it is turned on, as they will get the first month free.

Prof. W. K. Jones while in Columbia was told by the proprietor of a hotel who burns the same gas we are to have here that the gas is cheaper and better than coal oil.

There seems to be no one settled upon for the nominations for the lower house next Monday. Several are spoken of but there seems to be little anxiety to possess the high station.

Capt. A. C. Irvine was taken painfully ill Tuesday night with neuralgia in the side. He was not able to return to Williamson yesterday. He expected to start for Texas to-day.

There has been a great revival of the colored people of Bethel conducted by Rev. T. B. Smith at the colored Baptist church at that place. There were twenty-five baptized last Sunday.

A young gentleman is seen twice with the same young lady he is armed at every corner by a capitalist who proposes to take out a marriage policy on him in one of the Pulaski Associations.

Two prisoners were released from jail this week—one of them being the man who was confined a few weeks ago on account of larceny and the other a negro who has served his time in the chain gang.

Mr. Stansberry while assisting to arrange some additional machinery to the cotton factory last Monday morning was caught by a pin in a revolving shaft and painfully though not seriously bruised. No bones broken.

Mr. Craig has his evaporator up and has been running it since Tuesday night. It works admirably and he will be able to dry all the fruit and vegetables in the country. We are in favor of his applying his apparatus to the weather for the next few days.

The show case in Mr. Pearcey's drug store contains specimens of the artistic handwork of Mrs. Russell's pupils, who are several ladies from Pulaski and other places. They have the appearance of real imported goods and are beautiful. Mrs. Russell is an artist of exquisite taste and skill and her pupils have shown a wonderful aptitude.

Capt. A. C. Irvine, of Dallas, Texas, arrived in Pulaski last Monday to spend a few days with his friends here. He has been during his long residence in Pulaski to admire his princely ways and generous, noble heart. He likes Texas and is prospering there. We are glad to know that he is here, and he can never be weaned from Middle Tennessee.

LOST.

Return the nut you found in front of my store. It is worthless to you and waste money to me. It keeps the wheel on my wheel wagon and will pay me some trouble to get another one. I am willing to pay you for returning it. H. M. Buncin.

Col. Gil T. Abernathy was nominated last week for Congress by the voters of the legislature. Col. Abernathy is a native of Giles county, a son of the late Charles C. Abernathy, and is a man of broad intellect, like his brothers here. We have seen no indication that he will be elected, and he is a man of broad intellect, like his brothers here. We have seen no indication that he will be elected, and he is a man of broad intellect, like his brothers here.

The Memphis Mutual Aid Society.

The only company paying ten percent of amount due on certificate at once upon receipt of proof of marriage, and the only twenty day National company. Wants agents and members. Geo. E. Willis, secretary and Treasurer, Memphis, Tenn. Aug-31.

B. A. J. Nixon, col'd, the chairman of the republican committee, showed up at other day. Grant Medal, he being voted for. Gen. Grant so faithfully at the Chicago convention. It is a heavy bronze medal, three inches in diameter, with a profile of the Great Ulysses in relief upon one side, encircled by a wreath, and around that, inside the rim, the figures of the 36 ballots are given. On the reverse is the following: COMMEMORATIVE OF THE 36 BALLOTS THE OLD GUARD FOR ULYSSES S. GRANT FOR PRESIDENT Republican National Convention Chicago, June, 1880. B. A. J. Nixon.

We Can Do It.

We can sell you the best sorghum mill in the market. Come to see us. BROADBROS. &amp; CO. J. S. Childers &amp; Bro. want box 4 on Coffee. July-27.

Mr. J. H. Morris had on exhibition on the square Tuesday one of the DeVany wagons. As far as we could judge, it is as good a wagon as any as its kind sold in this market, trim, neat, nicely proportioned and skillfully made all over. It is an actual demonstration of Mr. DeVany's superiority over all other wagons. It is so good that it is impracticable to start their manufacture in Pulaski. We believe it is sent here for the purpose of exhibiting the maker's mechanical skill. He has submitted figures covering every piece and every stroke of work in it and shown that it will pay. It seems to us that some of the capital lying idle here or some that is now used in a plodding way might be put into this made to pay the persons well and at the same time be an advantage to the town and county. Farmers can get wagons cheaper and the money will be expended and circulated at home.

You can keep your hair abundant and glossy, and retain its youthful color, with Parker's Hair Balsam. July-27.

Honor to Judge Spofford.

The death of Hon. H. C. Spofford occurred at Red Sulphur Springs, Va., at 8 o'clock on Friday morning, Aug. 20, 1880. Next Sunday being the second anniversary of that sad event it would be entirely fitting that the citizens of Pulaski honor his memory by causing the bell upon the city tower to be tolled at high noon.

Do You Want $1,000?

Take a policy in the Free Home, Pulaski, Tenn. Circulars out to-day. The best plan of all, not covered up by misleading figures and intricate calculations. See it and apply at once if you would have a Free Home for yourself, to E. W. ROSE, sec'y. J. B. STACY, Lock Box 4. Treasurer.

The Elks.

At a regular meeting of the young men's club held in their hall Saturday evening, among other matters of business attended to, the above was adopted as the name of the club. The Elks are proud of their organization, and the social meetings in their room, which is well fitted up, are very pleasant. They gave their first hop at the St. Giles Tuesday night. It was a pleasant affair.

Mr. Tallafero's Card.

Mr. Tallafero's card declaring his intention not to be a candidate for Congress this term will be read with regret by many. Two years ago, and four years ago, he was very prominently supported for this high office and it was generally agreed that this time the way might be open to his nomination. In eliminating himself from the canvass he lessens the complications and other possibilities are engendered. We are not permitted to know the reasons for his withdrawal, but we are in the midst of a lucrative practice which is increasing continually, and it might involve a sacrifice to interrupt it at this juncture.

SUMAC.

—We will give some jottings without confining ourselves to this place, but will take the liberty to write some items from Pisgah circuit (Methodist).

—A question for naturalists: What has become of the June bugs? We haven't seen one this year. Never failed before since we have been old enough to see the one's leg to hear it hum.

—We observe that some of our folks are moving clover that was sown last spring. Some varieties of clover are used for the fruit and fruiting down with their load of fruit. Was there ever such a thick carpeting of the various grasses? As land can be greatly improved by turning green vegetable substances under, we think much of this important work will be done this fall.

We hear of parties proposing to sell new corn at 20 cts. per bushel. Hogs are scarce—not much meat for market.

—We report the following cases of sickness that come to our knowledge. Mr. M. D. Claxton has a pulmonary trouble. He has been very sick and is a little improved at present. Mrs. Sallie Marks, consort of the late Maj. L. B. Marks, is in very bad health. Neuralgia with age and feebleness extreme make her recovery somewhat doubtful. Mr. Dock Worsham is down with bilious fever.

—There are four octogenarians (white) living within the bounds of this Methodist circuit. Three of them are members of it, the fourth a respectful attendant of preaching. We begin with the youngest and give their names, Edward Marks, in his 81st year, Wm. Kersey, in his 83rd year, William Williams, in his 84th year, and William Williams, in his 84th year. These four venerable men still circulate among their fellows, a connecting link between the present and the past. We have seen no indication that they will be elected, and he is a man of broad intellect, like his brothers here. We have seen no indication that they will be elected, and he is a man of broad intellect, like his brothers here.

Odd Fellows' Hall

—Our school, under the supervision of Prof. Hill, is flourishing.

—Wm. Worsham and wife of Leatherwood are visiting their son here.

—William Granger, a little brother of Mrs. T. B. Causton, is very sick, and also a little daughter of T. B. Causton.

—The threshing season is over; wheat made a fair yield; crops are booming; corn is the best we ever saw; cotton is doing well.

—Miss Anna Belle Smith and Miss Belle Napier, after a protracted visit to the Hill vicinity, returned a few days ago.

—Miss Mattie Riddle, one of Bodenham's belles, is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. H. Blow, and some of the young folks are very sorry that she cannot be worked at this particular time.

—Our preacher being absent conducting a protracted meeting at another point, his appointment was filled by the Rev. Abner Stephenson, who delivered an interesting sermon at the Hill vicinity. Our protracted meeting at this place will commence Saturday before the fourth Sunday in this month.

—Wm. Latham, while looking after some wheat he was drying a few days ago, was taken ill from cold and was considerably hurt, but is rapidly recovering at this time. Zeno.

—Mrs. Kate Atkins, a wealthy lady of Pittsburgh, Pa., writes: "Rich food and high living, night parties, fashionable dressing and the general frivolity of life are affecting my health quite seriously. I commenced using Brown's Iron Bitters, and now I am as lively as a young girl, and excel them all in endurance. It is more refreshing than champagne, and its strengthening effects are lasting."

Will You Believe It?

—Wm. B. Farnes, To relieve the aching heart of woman, and bring joy where sorrow reigned supreme, is a mission before which the smiles of kings dwindle into utter insignificance. This is the peculiar province of Bradfield's Female Regulator, which, from its humblest cure, is appropriately styled "Woman's Best Friend."

—The distressing complaint known as whites, and various irregularities of the womb, to which women are subject, disappear like magic before this wonderful composition. It is a household duty.

—NEAR MARIETTA GA., March 21, 1870. Some months ago I bought a bottle of Bradfield's Female Regulator, and used it in my family with the utmost satisfaction. I have recommended it to three families, and they have found it to be just what is claimed. The females who have used the Regulator are now in perfect health, and able to attend to their household duties.

—Rev. H. B. Johnson.

Dr. J. Bradfield, Prop., Atlanta, Ga. Price 75 cents and $1.50.

Dr. R. F. Boyd, colored, offers his professional services in this issue. He has been offered and will doubtless accept a position in the faculty of Mehary Medical College, Nashville, where he graduated. The offer is quite flattering. He is one of the rising men of his race and greatly deserving of an account of his deportment and intelligence.
